What is the Jewish Early Childhood Initiative?

Since August of 2014, many of the children enrolled at Aleph Bet Children's Center have been eligible for a gift voucher up to $1,200 per year towards their tuition. This gift has been distributed by the Jewish Early Childhood Initiative, which was established to encourage families to seek a Jewish early education for their children by offsetting the cost. The grant was initially funded thanks to a generous grant from the Lebovitz Family Charitable Trust.

After several beneficial years, it is time to bolster this program. If you are interested in seeing the JECI grant continue to be available for future families, we encourage you to make your voice heard through a donation. If you're interested in donating funds to continue JECI, please contact Meghan Graybeal, director of the Aleph Bet Children's Center at 423-893-5486. Thank you for your help, and your commitment to seeing every child achieve their best start.

Shedding Light on the Candlelight

Every day we perform mitzvot without even thinking about it. Sometimes a mitzvah is something you do individually and sometimes it is a family affair. We are all blessed with shelter, clothing, good health, food and family members who care about us. During our celebration of Chanukah, we need to reflect each night to think about how we can perform a different mitzvah for each of the eight nights of Chanukah. I would like to offer the following for the eight nights:

The First Candle

Fulfill the mitzvah of MAZON - feeding the hungry. Light one candle for the Jews who tonight have no place to light candles. After the candle is lit, put aside a box or can of food so you can donate it to a local food pantry.

The Second Candle

Tonight, work towards KLAL YISRAEL, unity of the Jewish people. Light two candles for two family members who cannot light candles with you tonight. After the candles are lit, go and call or write a Chanukah card to two family members. Be sure to remember any grandparents!

The Third Candle

Fulfill the mitzvah of PIDYON SHIVUYIM - redeeming captives. Tonight as you light three candles, look at the world around you and imagine those who couldn't even light one Chanukah candle. Write a letter to your senator or congress-person on behalf of one oppressed group of people or make a donation to HIAS.

The Fourth Candle

Fulfill the mitzvah of BIKUR CHOLIM- visiting the sick. Light four candles and remember those who haven't received even one present on this holiday of Chanukah. Purchase a small Chanukah gift for a child. Bring it to a nearby hospital pediatric ward.

The Fifth Candle

Fulfill the mitzvah of HACHNASAT ORCHIM - welcoming guests, and brighten up someone's day. Light five candles for the five days of the week. Invite new friends, old friends and family!

The Sixth Candle

Tonight, focus on the mitzvah of KEDUSHAH - the capacity to focus our attention and recognize the "specialness" of things. Take one thing that you do every day (for example, brushing your teeth, getting dressed) and write a blessing to recognize the "specialness" of this activity.

The Seventh Candle

Fulfill the mitzvah of SHALOM BAYIT - household harmony. After you light seven candles, list seven things that you, as an individual, can do to help out your family members. Have a family conference and, after you promise to try out your list, discuss exchanging a gift for this holiday that would enhance the whole family.

The Eighth Candle

Light eight candles and smile! Tonight, with the chanukiah fully ablaze, work towards TIKKUN OLAM - REPAIRING THE WORLD. Complete one activity that might eliminate the darkness of someone else's life.

What to Read Now

I would like to suggest some wonderful story books for our families to enjoy during Chanukah:

Maccabee! (Tilda Balsley, illustrated by David Harrington) Judah and his small army of Maccabees fight to free Jerusalem from the cruel King Antiochus.

Jodie's Hanukkah Dig (Anna Levine, illustrated by Ksenia Topaz) During Hanukkah vacation, Jodie and her father join an exciting archaeological dig in Modi'in, the home of the Maccabees.

Sammy Spider's First Hanukkah (Sylvia A. Rouss, illustrated by Katherine Janus Kahn) Sammy Spider watches longingly as Josh Shapiro lights another candle and receives another gift.

The Ziz and the Hanukkah Miracle (Jacqueline Jules illustrated by Katherine Janus Kahn) As winter comes, the giant mythical bird the Ziz has a hard time making his dinner.

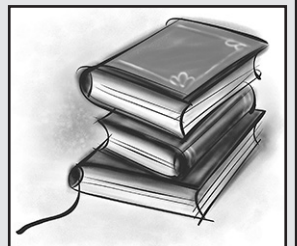

Latke, the Luck Dog (Ellen Fischer, illustrated by Tiphonie Beeke) Rescued from a shelter, Lucky celebrates with the family.

Sadie's Almost Marvelous Menorah (Jamie Korngold, illustrated by Julie Fortenberry) So excited about her menorah, Sadie trips and the menorah breaks, except for the Shamash.

Esther's Hanukkah Disaster (Jane Sutton, illustrated by Andy Rowland) It is so hard to pick the right gifts when you are a gorilla!

The Count's Hanukkah Countdown (Ellen Fischer and Tilda Balsley, illustrated by Tom Leigh) The Count visits his Israeli Muppet friends and learns 8 is the perfect number.

Kehilla (Community) Conversation

Wednesday, December 12th at 6:30 pm at the home of Rob and Beth Lowe

Last year the General Assembly of Conservative Synagogues overwhelmingly voted to change the standard of membership for United Synagogue. Whereas formerly only Jewish individuals could be members in conservative synagogues, this governing body, in hopes of fulfilling the vision of the prophet Isaiah, "My House will be called a house of prayer for all people," has opened the doors to the tent, celebrating and welcoming diversity in our sacred spaces. We hope that all of our members will choose one of four upcoming town hall meetings to discuss how these recent changes in United Synagogue policy might affect our own by-laws.

B'nai Zion Book Club Presents....

Letters to My Palestinian Neighbor by Yossi Klein Halevi

November 28th at Barnes & Noble at noon, or December 16th at the home of Laurie Fisher at 2:00 pm

Letters to My Palestinian Neighbor is one Israeli's powerful attempt to reach beyond the wall that separates Israelis and Palestinians and into the hearts of "the enemy." In a series of letters, Yossi Klein Halevi explains what motivated him to leave his native New York in his twenties and move to Israel to participate in the drama of the renewal of a Jewish homeland, which he is committed to see succeed as a morally responsible, democratic state in the Middle East. We are offering two options to attend a conversation about this short book in its entirety.

Christmas at Erlanger

Members of the B'nai Zion and Mizpah congregations are partnering with Erlanger Health System to serve a free Christmas lunch for family members of patients and associates at the Erlanger Baroness Hospital on Dec. 25. The Jewish volunteers will provide their Christian brethren food on their holy Christmas Day as a mitzvah, or good deed.

Wednesday Morning Mussar

Wednesdays at 7:30 a.m.

Mussar is a 1,000-year-old tradition of Jewish study in which the focus is practical application of our sacred teachings into the ethics by which we guide our lives. We use teachings from Alan Morinis' book, Every Day, Holy Day, as launching off points to discuss Jewish values and to explore texts from Talmud and other books of Jewish law, theology, and practice.

Bring your coffee, a bagel or nosh if you like, and let Torah provide you extra energy for the rest of the day.

Lunch and Learn

Thursdays from 12:15-1:15

Bring your own lunch as Rabbi Lewis presents teachings on seasonal topics: upcoming holidays, world events, or as guided by the interest of participants. These sessions will be a pleasant way to see Temple friends during the week and to explore deeper understandings of Judaism together.

CHABAD

Chabad
of Chattanooga

Rabbi Shaul
Perlstein

Be a Part of the Miracle

1931, in Kiel, Germany, the last night Chanukah, Rabbi Akiva Boruch Posner, spiritual leader of the town, lit his Chanukah menorah. Directly across from the Posner's home stood the Nazi headquarters in Kiel, displaying the dreaded Nazi Party flag. Rabbi Posner's wife, Rachel, snapped a photo of the menorah, capturing the Nazi building and flag in the background.

Mrs. Posner wrote a few lines in German on the back of the photo: Chanukah, 5692 (1931). 'Judea dies,' thus says the banner. 'Judea will live forever,' thus respond the Chanukah lights.

One year later, Hitler became Chancellor of Germany and the Nazis held a torch-lit procession through the famous Brandenburg Gate in Berlin to celebrate Hitler's seizure of power.

A few weeks ago at the Conference of Chabad Shluchim, I heard from my colleague, Rabbi Yehudah Teichtel, Chief Rabbi of Berlin. And he shared with us that on the 85th anniversary of the onset of the Holocaust, he went to visit the President of Germany, Frank Walter Steinmeier.

Rabbi Teichtel shared with the German president the words that he heard from the person who sent him to Berlin, the Lubavitcher Rebbe, that in the place where we saw the greatest darkness we must bring in the greatest light.

The president responded that he wants Germany to put up a massive grand menorah right at the Brandenburg Gate in Berlin, in the exact spot where Hitler stood and gave his fiery speeches on the urgent need to rid the world from the bacteria of the Jewish people, their Torah and their G-d.

If you go to the Brandenburg Gate this year on Chanukah, you will observe the president of Germany, a position once held by Hitler himself, lighting the shamash of the Chanukah menorah in the spot where the greatest enemy of the Jewish people stood just a few decades ago.

Rachel Posner, wrote on her photo: Chanukah, 1931. 'Judea dies,' thus says the banner. 'Judea will live forever,' thus respond the Chanukah lights. Who was right?!

Today the picture and menorah are on display in Yad Vashem. Yet there was one condition made: each year it is removed to be used by the descendants of Rabbi and Rebbetzin Posner. This year Akiva Mansbach, who is named after his grandfather, will light the menorah with his family. "This is our way" said Akiva, "of being part of the miracle. This Menorah reminds of the obligation to ensure throughout the year that Judea will live forever." (from Chabad.org)

Will you allow yourself and your children to be part of the miracle this year?!

Barbie Potts, fresh from the Nurse's Track of the Hadassah Milestone Mission, shared her experiences on the special Nurses Track Tour at the home of Bev Coulter. Hadassah celebrated the original Hadassah project in Israel establishing the Hadassah Medical Center and the School of Nursing. Thank you to Barbie and Bev for making this event a success (pictured on this page).

Chattanooga's Margaritas and Maj Jongg annual membership event was held at Mizpah. Maj Jongg lessons were available for new players. Dana Banks and Paula Israel helped organize the event, Dana and Richard Waxler mixed up the Margaritas, and everyone enjoyed the result. Jan Barrali was the lucky attendee who won an annual membership in Hadassah.

Come celebrate Chanukah at a joint Hadassah-Federation Tuesday luncheon December 4th at the JCC. Carla Morrow has arranged for a klezmer music celebration with Ed Bergin on accordion and Gordon Iman on clarinet. Please bring your donations of nonperishable food to the Chattanooga Food Bank and toiletries to Room in the Inn any time after Thanksgiving through Chanukah. RSVP to Federation at 493-0270 or email: federation@jewishchattanooga.com.

Hadassah will host dinner at Room in the Inn, a home for women and their dependents on Monday, January 14th. Please let Vicki Lewis know what food items or monetary gifts members will be contributing so she can coordinate the meal. Usually there are about 20-25 residents at any given time. Donors can drop off clearly-labeled food items on January 14th by 5 p.m. at 230 Highland Park Ave. If anyone would prefer to bring items directly to Vicki or to leave them at Mizpah, please contact Vicki at (205) 502-3749 or email lewisvicki75@gmail.com. Room in the Inn empowers homeless women and their children to become financially independent.

Remember each lifecycle event with membership in Hadassah. Contact Judy Sachsman for information about membership.

Hadassah enhances the health and lives of people in Israel, the United States and worldwide. By connecting and empowering Jewish women to effect change, we are the women who do.
